

Fargo ND benefits enormously from our K-Love station. It is refreshing to hear something that supports and reaffirms my values and beliefs. It is a wonderful alternative to all the other junk on the radio today.

I believe that if K-LOVE were displaced by other programming, not only would many people have nothing to listen to (therefore not choosing to listen to the radio at all), Fargo would become a city that only caters to one type of person, the one that fits the mainstream. K-LOVE needs to stay on the air because it is a niche that is mostly ignored. Despite what critics may say, there are people out there that enjoy wholesome music that can be heard by the whole family, music that doesn't have to have words edited out. It not only uplifts and benefits individuals, but my church uses K-LOVE to get song ideas for our contemporary worship service. Taking K-Love off the air would do Fargo-Moorhead a great disservice.
